ONLINE COURSE INFORMATION*

Online and hybrid classes (face-to-face classes with an online component) offered through the Office of Continuing Education use the Angel course management system.

To be successful with these courses, students should have basic computer skills and a familiarity with using the internet. Some courses require regular logins and others are self-paced. Either type allows students more flexibility to complete the course materials at times and places where it is convenient for them. The course description will indicate which type of online course it is.

When registering for a course with an online component, you will need to supply your email address and date of birth upon registration. These are key to ensuring you receive your login credentials to access your course.

For more information about the Angel online learning system, go to: sunyacc.edu/academics/onlinelearning

Be sure to check out the video tutorial about accessing Angel.

Please note that the online ed2go courses use a different online learning platform.*

COMPUTER COURSE INTRO TO GRAPHIC DESIGN WITH PHOTOSHOP

September 12 to December 19

Online course at your own pace

Photoshop is powerful image-editing software that allows users to use their creativity to alter photos. Learn the fundamentals needed to create high-quality digital images. These skills can be used to scan and clean up old photos and enhance digital photos. This class will introduce new Photoshop users to the program, how it works and what it can do, as well as give students a solid foundation in the theory and terminology of digital design.

The course is composed of PowerPoint presentations, video lectures, key skills handouts, quizzes to test knowledge and discussion boards where questions about Photoshop and design can be addressed and discussed with fellow students and the instructor. Although these are self-paced lessons, the instructor is still available via discussion board and email to answer questions. Photoshop CS4, CS5, CS6 and CC can be used with this course. A free, 30-day trial of Photoshop is available online. Please read the information about online courses on page 2 before enrolling in this course.

Work at your own pace — you can register for this class any time during the semester and have until December 19 to complete it.

COMPUTER TRAINING COURSES

The Office of Continuing Education offers computer training for companies and individuals. Courses may be offered in a traditional classroom environment, as one-on-one training, or as group training customized to serve our local businesses.

TRADITIONAL CLASSROOM ENVIRONMENT

Schedule-on-demand courses are available based on community interest, throughout the year. Once we have received sufficient interest to run a particular course, it will be offered based on the demand.

ONE-ON-ONE TRAINING

Customized one-on-one training is available for those individuals and professionals needing immediate, focused training. One or two people may be trained; instruction is typically 2-3 hours, at $100/hour.

SMALL & LARGE GROUP TRAINING

Customized group training is available for employers or agencies seeking staff development. Employers can specify the instruction needed.

Small group training involves 3-5 staff members; length of instruction is variable, at $150/hour. Large group training is six staff or more; rates are based on group size and length of instruction. Customized manuals are also available as a training aid.

Instructor:
Kristen Girard

Price: $85

CRN: 10024

This class will be taught online using the Angel course management system and is divided into 10 self-paced lesson modules.

Each lesson builds on the previous module, helping students to acquire new skills and information as they progress at their own pace.

If you do not have Photoshop currently installed, a free 30-day trial is available online.

PYRAMID MODEL TRAINING NEW!

For childcare providers and early childhood educators

The Pyramid Model — also referred to as the Center on the Social and Emotional Foundations for Early Learning (CSEFEL) — is a conceptual framework for evidence-based practices for promoting young children’s social and emotional competence and for preventing and addressing challenging behavior. This opportunity for professional development includes extensive resources to help New York’s child care programs and providers implement the model.

The infant & toddler modules are designed for supervisors, trainers, teachers, home visitors and caregivers who work with children birth to 3 years of age. The preschool and early childhood modules are appropriate for supervisors, trainers, administrators, teachers and caregivers who work with children from 2 ½ to 5 years of age.

NYS OCFS topic areas addressed in these modules include Principles of Childhood Development and Child Care Program Development. NYSED Core Body of Knowledge content addressed includes Child Growth and Development and Environment and Curriculum.

Each module includes three, 3-hour sessions. Participants must attend all three sessions of a module to earn the 9 hours of professional development and to receive a certificate of completion for that module from the NY Master Cadre trainer and New York Works for Children.

DISPUTE RESOLUTION IN THE WORKPLACE NEW!

October 20 to November 3

Thursday | 8 to 10:30am

This three-session course will introduce the essential skills used by mediators to bring people in opposition to mutual understanding and resolution. The process of mediation in contrast with other dispute-resolution processes, values and conflict styles will be explored. Participants will gain valuable skill sets that are highly effective in helping people communicate well and work through challenging situations. Skills relating to listening, empathizing, reframing and problem-solving are relevant for anyone wishing to effectively assist others to maintain relationships while working through conflict — both professionally and personally. Participants will walk away with practical skills they can put to immediate use.

Mediation Matters is a Community Dispute Resolution Center providing mediation, training, facilitation, and conflict resolution services serving Warren, Washington, Saratoga, Schenectady, Albany, and Rensselaer Counties, and has been funded in part by the New York State Office of Court Administration since 1981. This multi-faceted organization of professionals is dedicated to encouraging a culture of peace by empowering people to manage and resolve conflict in a constructive way, providing effective skills and processes, and increasing the capability for non-adversarial and self-determined problem solving within the community.

Instructor:

Sarah Rudgers Tysz, Esq.,
Meditation Matters

Price: $160

CRN: 10084

What is meditation?

Mediation is a voluntary and confidential way to have a conversation about a dispute with a trained and impartial mediator. The mediator helps each party discuss their interests and explore mutually acceptable solutions while individuals make all decisions about the outcome.

BASIC OPERATIONS FOR WASTEWATER TREATMENT PLANTS

September 6 to November 10

Tuesdays & Thursdays | 6 to 9pm

Participants in this 20-session course will experience a broad introduction and overview of wastewater treatment operations, excluding activated sludge (a separate course typically offered in the spring). Successful completion of a training course is required as part of the qualification process to take the New York State certification examinations. This is not intended to be an exam review course, and completing it cannot ensure successful completion of the certification exams.

This course's outline will follow the New York State DEC's "Curricula Guide for WWTP Operator Certification Training – Basic Operations Course," and is also approved for credit toward recertification of a wastewater operator license.

PET EDUCATION CERTIFICATE

October 17 to December 12

Fully Online Course

Interested in starting a career working with animals but don't know where to get started? This course will help you explore the field of animal-related careers through education and internships. The Pet Education Certificate course offers a variety of resources to help begin or advance your career working with animals in areas such as pet-sitting, kennel work, daycare, training, working for a veterinarian and other animal-related fields.

The course content includes: pet health and illness, communication, behavior management, safety, basic hygiene care for pets and even writing a resume and preparing for an interview. Internships offer opportunities for students to network for experience and employment. The instructor will assist you in securing the necessary internships to complete the certificate.

In order to successfully complete this program, students must complete a pet First Aid/CPR class and must complete at least 54 hours of internships at approved animal care facilities within six months of the course completion.

Instructor:

Mary Lynn Gagnon

Price: $400

CRN: 10014

Those who successfully complete this unique program will have specialized education and experience that gives them an advantage in the field. This course will further your knowledge and skills through engaging and informative course materials and hands-on internship experiences.

Students will need to purchase three textbooks separately. Cost is estimated to be $65 for all three.

ECUADOR

May 2017

This Spring 2017 semester, learn about the nation of Ecuador, then see it for yourself from the mountains to the Amazon. This multidisciplinary program will cover a broad range of academic subjects including anthropology and archaeology (learning about the indigenous peoples of the Andes and the Amazon), Andean and Amazonian art, biodiversity, political science and economics, various aspects of indigenous industry including textile weaving and leather shops, the exportation and marketing of these products as well as ecotourism and sustainability in the region.

The class will visit indigenous markets and stay in jungle lodges and haciendas. The course offers opportunities to students interested in geography, agriculture, tropical and neo-tropical eco-zones, volcanoes, jungle wildlife, botany, marine biology, natural resource conservation and environmental science, from the Andes to the Amazon.

Activities include day and night jungle hikes, horseback riding, jungle zipline, birdwatching and night boat/canoe safaris. The program has been designed to provide significant interaction and contact with the indigenous Andean people to facilitate an effective cultural immersion experience for the participants. Destinations will include a wide range of geographical locations, including volcanoes, high altitude mountains, jungles and rainforests (ie. Cuyabeno Reserve), colonial haciendas, indigenous villages and Spanish Colonial Quito, a UNESCO World Heritage Site.

For more information, contact the professors:

BIOSHELTERS

December 6

Tuesday | 6:30 to 8:30pm

Bioshelters are the next step beyond greenhouses and electrical solar collectors. These rooms, attached to your house, can provide you with vegetables, fruit, herbs, fish, (even Escargot), comfortable heat in the winter, a cooling effect in summer and a quiet refuge anytime of the year. They are the best place to put a shower. A bioshelter can not only provide you with basic food, it can give you exotic foods like mangoes, bananas, papayas and more.

These systems can be attached to your home or free standing. They need no auxiliary energy inputs. Homes can be designed with a bioshelter as the core system, and in many cases, as add-ons to existing apartments and on rooftops of city buildings. Come and explore this with us.

FOREST GARDENING NEW!

November 1

Tuesday | 6:30 to 8:30pm

Long, long ago, home garden systems were a little different than in present agribiz times. Somewhere along the great time-line things got torn apart. Flowers, culinary herbs, medicinal plants, vegetables, berry vines and cane fruits and fruit and nut trees were separated. This gave rise to what is known as monocrop agriculture. Gardening and farming innovators are successfully implementing alley cropping, polycrops and forest gardening. As this area was originally a forest, forest gardening will fit right in here. BARRE CLASS

September 21 to December 7 No classes on Oct. 5 & Nov. 23
Wednesday | 5 to 6pm

What is Balancé Barre? A trendy, new and effective group fitness class like no other! Barre-based classes use a combination of postures inspired by ballet and other disciplines like Yoga and Pilates. The ballet barre or chairs are used as props to balance while doing exercises that focus on isometric strength training. Isometric training is holding your body still while you contract a specific set of muscles combined with high reps of small range-of-motion movements. You will feel the burn! The major benefits of barre are improved posture, muscle definition, weight loss, increased flexibility and reduced stress. You will notice improved balance and stability as well. Everyone will leave class feeling challenged and invigorated!

You'll start with a warm up and sequence of upper-body exercises, which include free weights, push-ups, planks and other moves to target the biceps, triceps, chest and back muscles. Next, you'll use the ballet barre (or chair) and your own body weight for resistance to focus on the legs, thighs and seat muscles. Your core will be engaged the entire class and then targeted at the end with a series of mat-based abdominal exercises.

For the cool down, you'll go through a series of stretches to increase flexibility and allow your muscles to recover. Plié relevé and tendu your way to better health! Look and feel your best with Balancé Barre!

KETTLEBELL FITNESS

September 17 to December 10
No classes October 1, 8, November 26
Saturday | 10:30 to 11:30am

Ready to kick all your fitness goals into high gear? Kettlebells are a Russian strength and conditioning tool that are rapidly taking over the health and fitness world. Kettlebells are time efficient — you train multiple fitness components in the same session including cardio, strength, balance, stability, power and endurance. Gain the functional strength and muscle definition you desire! Bring a water bottle, supportive sneakers, a set of heavier hand weights and a mat. It is required that students purchase a kettlebell prior to the first class. Often, women typically start with 10-15 pound (6.8kg) kettlebell and men start with a 20 pound kettlebell (9kg). Whatever you choose, be sure to choose one that still challenges you but isn't too heavy.

Of all the different pieces of fitness equipment out there, nothing does the job more effectively and efficiently than kettlebells.

THE SECRET ESCAPE WORLD OF THE UNDERGROUND RAILROAD NEW!

October 19

Wednesday | 1 to 3pm

Some 500 years ago, ships captained by Europeans began transporting millions of enslaved Africans across the Atlantic Ocean to the Americas. This massive population movement helped create the African Diaspora in the New World.

Many did not survive the horrible oceanic journey known as the “Middle Passage.” But those that did used intelligence, cunning, brute strength, courage, strong will and an unending belief in their maker to escape such tyranny and find freedom.

There were many means of silent communication, among which were the fascinating Talking Quilts which will be shown and discussed. Also used were disguises, which will be worn by the speaker (complete with corsets!). Learn some of the incredible ingenious methods used to escape.

The “Official National Park Handbook” ($5) and the “Official Map and Guide of the Underground Railroad” by the National Park Service, U.S. Department of the Interior ($2), will be available.

TOUR AND LUNCH AT THE SKENE MANOR

November 4

Friday | 11:15am to 1:30pm

The Skene Manor in Whitehall, NY

Enjoy a visit to The Skene Manor, Whitehall's Castle on the Mountain, which is one of the few remaining castles in north-east New York. The castle was constructed of stone blocks cut right out of the mountain that frames the manor. This magnificent structure shows turn-of-the-century craftsmanship rarely duplicated today. Your day will include a lunch of homemade soup, sandwiches, beverages and dessert that will be served in the tea room. You will be contacted prior to the trip for your sandwich order. You will also have the opportunity to tour the Skene Manor, where you will experience the grandeur that exemplified turn-of-the-century wealth. All who visit rave about the lunch and the dedication of the volunteer staff who run the manor. Now, experience it for yourself!

SPECIAL INTEREST

SPIRITUALITY FOR THE 21ST CENTURY: REINCARNATION AND PAST LIVES

September 22 to October 6

Thursday | 6:30 to 8:30pm

Not a religion course, this course explores the research of psychiatrists, psychologists, medical doctors and scientists into the realm of spirituality. We look at near-death experiences, past lives, regression hypnosis, reincarnation, quantum physics and consciousness, children's past lives, soulmates, etc. We explore questions like: Have you ever experienced "déjà vu" - that feeling that you "know" someone you have just met for the first time? Do you have unexplained pains, anxieties or phobias that do not respond to conventional treatments? Could you have lived before and could your past life (or lives) be influencing your present life? Does "consciousness" pervade the universe? Are we truly all interconnected? Is there any reason to believe in "divinity?" Learn how children ages 2-6 provide some of the most compelling evidence for reincarnation.

Learn how psychiatrists and psychologists can often cure unexplained fears and phobias via past-life regression therapy. Learn how past-life regression hypnosis often reveals that soulmates enjoyed a relationship in one or more of their past lives. Experience stories that may change your life.

SPIRITUALITY FOR THE 21ST CENTURY: LIFE BETWEEN LIFE

October 20 to November 3

Thursday | 6:30 to 8:30pm

Not a religion course, this course continues to explore the research of psychiatrists, psychologists and medical doctors into the realm of spirituality with a special focus on the after-life. We look at questions like: What does it feel like to die? What do we see and feel right after death? What is the spirit world really like? Will we see our loved ones there? Will we see our animal friends, our pets? Are we judged? By whom? Is there a hell? What do we do as souls in the "interlife?" Will we learn the purpose of life? Will we "see" our Creator? Do we plan our next lives — the time, the place and the reason for our return? Do we choose our parents? Our life situation? Our bodies? What does it feel like to be "reborn?"

All of these questions and others will be explored in this intensive presentation based on actual case histories of past-life regression subjects who have recalled their "life between life."
